Switzerland / Spain · Portfolio · Benjami Bono

Software developer with over two years of experience in technical development. I have built websites as a freelancer using modern technologies and frameworks, focusing on clean, efficient, and scalable code. I love creating cutting-edge, dynamic, and high-quality user interfaces. My strong communication skills set me apart, allowing me to collaborate effectively in team environments. Self-taught and highly adaptable, I am continuously expanding my skills in back-end development, aiming to become a full-stack developer. Open to on-site work. Eager to contribute to take on new challenges in the tech industry.
